a quarantee of good faith and with THE CHINA MAIL нонинома, моньку, моу, 22, 1869. A very noteworthy phase of American character is adverted to in the last num. ber of the London Speciator, the dispoition to allow any body to stalk as much as he likes, without considering that in any way bound by the sentiments he may enunciate. If a Minister makes aspeech in which he advocates or repudiates any particular line of policy, the everige American feels particularly ag prieved if foreigners generally attempt to fix upon him the responsibility of what he has said. It was thus with Mr Burlingame: his "high-falutin" speeches in California were not taken as expressing anything but brotherly love and milk of human kindness generally by his Californian hearers and readers, and they are quite savage at the idea of the China papers declaring that Mr B. had given such and such pledges about the Chinese generally, and his own mission in partionlar. In fine, they deliberately assert good deal may be learned by those interthat if an official happens after a particu- ested. larly good dinner or under the excitement of a ball to get up and make a interested and which involve speech about matters in which he political results of greater or less magnitude, he is not to be held in any way accountable for the truthfulness, correctness or discretion of his remarks! They seem to have the same opinions as regards communications to the papers With us the admission of a letter into a leading journal is, in a slight way, a guarantee of the respectability of the writer -at all events as to his being what he night any subscriber who sends a coolie, pretends to be and presumably honest. But such does not appear to be the case in the United States. We are told that the publication of a letter from any individual, or even an expression of opinion in the leading columns of a New York journal count for nothing !- that in the one case the letter is no way endorsed by the editors and that the leader does not in any way bind ite publisher to the expression of similar opinions on future occasion. Such at all events is the only construction we can put upon the curious sort of irresponsibility which being going on just this principle as regards Cuba and is quite astonished that any importance should have been attached to the spoken utterances of its Minister to Spain. We now learn that it never meant "to offer to mediate in Cuba," and in fact (though it didnt go quite so far as to say so) that its feelings as regarded Spain and Cuba were quite otherwise." We quote the remarks of the Spectator upon this matter, as, mulatis mulandis, American journalists may thence take a hint which will -save some little international jealousy in

Americans seem to attach to newspaper

"It has been the great defect of the Republican party since its accession to power that it has repeatedly shown the most inadequate sense of the significance of diplomatic language. It forgets the vast difference between a political feeler at party meeting, and the deliberate policy of a cabinet, and often puts forward the former with the official authority of the latter. If you fire off a rifle, though only loaded with the cork of a pop-gun, you most expect it to do mischief. All Europe regards a minister plenipotentiary's con-Versational hints as threats. The American Government is apt to be surprised, when its official spokesmen threaten, that their most elaborate menaces are regarded anything more serious than conversa-Monal binta."

THE numerous articles which have appeared in the home papers regarding the Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, two sai- interest in an estate in this quarter, and suspension of the "Albert" and "Euro- lors of the U. > those who are already insured to continue, the Life Assurance system. In considering the subject it must borne in' mind that the "Albert" was the result of 23 amalgamations, while the business of no less than 34 other offices had from first to last been merged into that of the "European." It is also only fair to bear in mind that both these offices were on the limited liability principle. Taking a broad view, our answer to the question we have proposed is that we fail to discover in the collapse of either of the above named offices, any valid argument that should strike at the root of Life Assurance. In all branches of, business the study should be to connect oneself with sound and well conducted, concerns But it may reasonably be asked " how is this to be insured !" MANY of our readers will be glad to learn The American Government has of late that the London Missionary Society joined their request with that of the congregation of Union Church, that the Rev. Dr. Legge should again become pastor of that congregation; and that the worthy Doctor intends to leave England for Hongkong by an early mail of next year, he having been prevailed upon to accede to the generallyexpressed desire. The most satisfactory feature about the matter-so far as the foreign community and the world generally are concerned is the learned assurance that his great work on the Chinese Classics will not be neglected by his pastoral duties.

> REMARKABLE instance of uncertainty of life was exemplified in the sudden death of Mr Charles Collins, second clerk at the Magistracy, about one o'clock yesterday. It appears that the deceased, who has been in the Government service for many years. had been complaining for some time, but had not been absent from office, and had no anticipation of his sudden demise. noon yesterday he went out to take a walk, and turned sick; upon which he took chair; but by the time he got home he was all but dead. A numbress had come over him, and the last and almost only words he said were "I have lost all feeling ; give me a knife." In a few minutes more he was gone; and it is stated that the cause of death was disease of the heart. Mr C. Collins was a steady government servant and his demise is generally regretted by those in his own department, as well as throughout the service. His funeral was well attended this afternoon.

IN CRIMINAL SESSION. (Before the Hon. Acting Chief Justice PAUNCEFORE and a Jury.) November 22, 1869.

The adjourned November Criminal Ses sions were resumed this morning, with the following Jury :- Messre Fairbairn, Jack, Degenaer, Thompson, H. de la Camp, R. Freerks, and B. J. C. F. Zerrener. Messrs O'Hara and Lutkens were excused from service on the Jury. The Court sat at ten o'clock, and only four or five cases appeared on the calendar.

The Acting Attorney General informed the Court that he had seen it his duty to return the manslaughter case (i.e., the scissor case) to the Magistrate, as there was not sufficient evidence at present for a trial of the prisoner here.

Ma Apong was then charged with the larceny of a brass basin and some clothing from a house (during the illumination) just opposite the Hung-fa-low, Queen's Road West. JAVA.

The N. B. Handlesblad of 2nd Nov. says, in its overland summary for Europe: "The news from various parts of the Archipelago are not of much importance. The N. I. Railway Company, in the provisional working of the line from Samarang to Solo, has continually to contend against many difficulties. These difficulties are not limited to the carrying out of operations with an inexperienced, and sometimes incompetent personnel, on a line still not wholly completed, with insufficient materiel, but there have arisen some not always just complaints. Of late many hindrances to the service have arisen from trains being run off the rails by buffaloes, or dead cattle, &c. and sometimes with injury to the passengers; and a necessity appears for lining the whole of the railroad with a fence. On the 25th October the Governor-General turned the first sod of the Batavia and Buitensorg Railway, in the presence of a considerable number of persons, summoned by invitation. Mr Maarschalk, President of the Head Committee of the N. I. Railway Company, was the first to deliver a speech on the occasion. After having satisned the demands of politeness towards the Governor-General, and then towards the company present, the speaker amply enlarged on the urgent necessity, becoming more and more apparent of late, of practising the utmost economy in the construction of railroads. The less necessary adjuncts, such as elegant stations, and buildings &c. could always be constructed as railways came into operation, from the gains result; ing from the traffic. The speaker emphasis tically contradicted the report, lately spread about, that in the construction of the Batavia Buitenzorg line, an economy would be put in force, which would be injurious to the durability of the works, and dan-Calcutta, 25th (1) October. - Bank Bills on gerous to the security of the passengers. Directions or orders for such measures had never been issued, or authorised, by the headoffice, and should directions or orders to that effect be made, the present Directors of the Committee would never consent to carry them out. Recommending the Company to the help and protection of the Government, the speaker concluded with a wish, that the present Governor-General, before returning to his fatherland, would make a point of attending at the opening of the intended new line of railway. The Chairman's speech was replied to by the Governor General, who, amongst many other things said, that in however small a degree the N. I. Government was able to cause its good-will and approbation to appear, the principal support coming from elsewhere. he nevertheless could give the assurance, that the assistance and co-operation of the Government might be relied upon. The ceremony-of the turning the first sod with a spade then took place in the usual way.
